County Brotherhoods Meet In Greenfield With Special Speaker

President Leland M. Cairns of Greenfield will preside at the county meeting of the Church Brotherhoods and Men's Clubs at its annual meeting at the First Congregational church in Greenfield on Monday evening, November 1st. Dinner will be served previous to the session and the attendance already indicates many coming so that two sittings will be necessary, at 5:30 and at 6:30. Reports from the officers and from the various Brotherhoods will be offered and the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. H. Hughes Wagner, minister of the Trinity Methodist church of Springfield, who has taken for his subject "A crisis has its points." It will be a timely address pertinent to the conditions which confronts the world today. The Northfield Brotherhood which is a member of the County Federation will be represented by a large delegation. The First Congregational church is located at Nashs Mills in Greenfield.

THE CANNING AGE

Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can.

THE MAN UPSTAIRS

To him who doubts there is a God
And has no faith in prayers,
Remember that co-pilot,
His talk with "The Man Upstairs."

Remember Rickenbacker too,
And the tale to which he swears;
The amphibious dangers to his raft,
And his talk to "The Man Upstairs."

There is a God—a loving God,
Who governs world affairs;
Such miracles are daily wrought
By Him, "The Man Upstairs."

This war will not be won by might—

None are, the Book declares;
But victory comes as a nation prays,
And trusts in "The Man Upstairs."

Mrs. Ida B. Botts, Texas.

With The Boy Scouts

Twenty-six scouts and three leaders were present at the Scout meeting Monday evening, Oct. 11, and another good attendance. Monday evening the 18th, the program was so interesting at both sessions that it took overtime to complete it. At the first meeting Charles Johnson gave a talk on just the sort of things boys like to know about plumbing. Keen interest evidenced itself in the number and kinds of questions asked. The speaker was introduced by Warren Hutchinson, who acted as master of ceremonies, and the thanks of the group was expressed by David Powell. Movies on football and firemaking were enthusiastically received.

At the last meeting Donald Finch gave a demonstrated talk on carpentering. David Powell was master of ceremonies, assisted by Goddard Winterbottom.

Fortnightly Women Enjoy First Meeting Of Announced Program

On Friday afternoon, October 8 members of the Fortnightly held their opening fall meeting in Alexander Hall, with a goodly attendance and with Mrs. Paul Mayberry, the president presiding. After calling the meeting to order six new members as well as the regular members and guests were given a most cordial welcome.

The new members were: Mrs. Louis Van Phelan, Mrs. Cleland D. Cochrane, Mrs. Leon Russell, Mrs. Irvin B. Hale, Mrs. William Slate and Mrs. George Ball.

There followed a short business meeting including announcements of replacements to fill vacancies of Fortnightly officers: Program committee, Mrs. Leander Kirk to replace Mrs. Carl Compton, Mrs. Marshall Lanphear to replace Mrs. William Park; director, Mrs. George Pefferle to complete the term of Mrs. Ray Thompson; first vice-president, Mrs. Park replaces Miss Natalie Briesmaster. A most enjoyable program followed by Miss Christine Coleman, drama-tist, and the Northfield Hotel trio comprising Miss Synott, pianist; Miss Durrell, violinist, and Miss Mercier, cellist. The trio played three selections. Miss Coleman entertained with a group of humorous character sketches. Her program, "Let laugh to live" was well named. The large audience was most appreciative. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. F. H. Briesmaster, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, and Miss Marion Holton, the tea hostesses.

On Friday afternoon, October 22, the next session will be held at Alexander Hall at three o'clock, when Mrs. H. H. Morse and Miss Jean Kenway will offer a "Book review." The tea hostesses will be Mrs. F. Wilton Dean, Mrs. Monroe Smith and Mrs. William E. Park.

Auditors were in town last week making their annual visit for and in behalf of the American Youth Hostel, and whose certification will be a part of the organization's annual report.

The marquee on the front of the town hall in Brattleboro, used for advertising for the Auditorium theatre has been removed and the appearance of the town hall is to be improved by the restoration of its architecture when built. Local visitors to Brattleboro have noticed the change under way.

Corp. James R. Dale of this town who is with the ordnance department in the army has arrived safely in England with his contingent.

According to a deed filed at the Registry, Ignoc Kochmanski of this town has sold to Fred P. Jones, land and buildings located on Maple street.

About 150 women are needed from this region of the state to enlist in the WACS to make up the quota for Massachusetts of 3000. A special effort is being made and any women who desire to offer their services, should write Mrs. Mary B. Varner at Greenfield. There should be some applications from this town.

Sgt. Watson Black, who is stationed at Camp Edwards recently spent a few days at his home here with his mother, Mrs. Helen Black.

It is announced that the New England poultry show will be held in Greenfield Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20. The large vacant store will be used, formerly occupied by the First National grocery.

From Miss Harriet Richards of Mount Vernon, Wash., comes a copy of the Seattle Daily Times which contains a most interesting account of the big war show given by the Army forces in the stadium of the University of Washington, which seats over forty thousand people. Miss Richards was a former resident of this town and for many years secretary to Ambert G. Moody in his office at Kenafden hall.

Rev. and Mrs. Willard L. McKinstry, who are now located on Nantucket, spent an enjoyable vacation in Northfield at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Morgan.

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church spent a most enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Webster and Mrs. L. P. Goodspeed, Thursday of last week when Mrs. Robert N. Taylor presented a program of music. Mrs. Robert McCastline and Mrs. Webster were the hostesses for the scheduled meeting.

You Must Register For Your Ration Book At The Center School

Again it is announced that there will be another Ration Coupon book and it is number Four. The Center school will be the place for registration and the work will again be undertaken by our public school teachers who did the job so well in previous registrations. The lunch room in Center school will be used and the time is as follows: Monday, October 25, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Tuesday, October 26, 2 p. m. to 6 p. m.; Wednesday, October 27, 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. Application blanks must be filled out, upon applying and there will be a separate blank for each family unit, although one person may register for such a family unit, as a member or agent. Ration book No. 3 must be brought with you in applying and the cover of the book must be completely filled in before a new book will be issued. It is important that our citizens act promptly in the matter of registration and show their cooperation. You will need your Ration Book No. 4. Remember the days, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Center school.

For That "Party" Meal

By Frances Lee Barton

HOT weather means porch parties, lawn parties, family meals beneath the shade trees and kiddies' parties in the orchard or on the veranda.

Dessert? Of course! Nothing elaborate is necessary but a simple chilled dessert certainly adds the final touch to any of these meals. Here's the most economical "party" dessert imaginable. But it's tasty. Serve it to the children and see how they react:

Zippy Cola Mold
1 package cola-flavored gelatin;
1 cup hot water; 1 cup carbonated water.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Cool slightly. Then add carbonated water. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serves 4 to 6.

Popeye Plus

By Frances Lee Barton

OLD Popeye eats his spinach clear.

It fills him full of vim.

We follow suit, but for a change we dine like Uncle Bim. On spinach dishes so enriched they suit our every whim.

Spinach Ring
2 tablespoons butter; ¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca; 1½ teaspoons salt; 1 cup milk; ¼ cup grated American cheese; 2 tablespoons minced onion; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 cup drained cooked spinach, finely chopped; 1 cup grated raw carrots; 1 teaspoon vinegar; ¼ teaspoon dry mustard; dash of pepper.

Combine butter, tapioca, salt, and milk in saucepan. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add grated cheese, onion, eggs, spinach, carrots, vinegar, mustard, and pepper. Mix thoroughly. Turn into well-greased ring mold. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 50 minutes, or until firm. Unmold and fill center with creamed fish, left-over meat, or mushrooms. Serves 6.

'HALLOWE'EN'

Hallowe'en—It's on the calendar and the young people expect to enjoy it next week-end. Let them have plenty of good fun and help them in it. We are all children but once in a lifetime and it should be filled with many pleasant memories. Only idiots and fools take advantage of the "children's hour" to blur its observance by brainless thoughts and shameful acts.

Christ The Prophet From Recent Sermon

Beginning a series of sermons on "Who is This Christ," the Rev. Edward C. Dahl of the Congregational church, had this to say:

Who is this Christ? He is the central figure in our religion, the key that unlocks and makes plain all Christian teaching. He of all the figures of history, speaks to us most clearly of God.

Christ made his impression on men during his lifetime as a prophet, a Teacher of unusual wisdom whose message and authority came directly from God. Though he never wrote down his teaching in order and left no theological or philosophical system, the gospel records show three central ideas in all that he said. He spoke of the Kingdom of God, meaning God's control of the universe and of history, his present sovereignty in men's lives, and his eventual vindication when all things shall be conformed to his rule. He spoke of the Will of God, meaning God's perfect and holy requirement that asks of men the very best that they can do and condemns them for each failure to live with utter honesty, purity, unselfishness and love. He spoke also of the Love of God, which understands man's weakness and forgives his shortcomings, ever seeking out the sinner with infinite patience, granting him the power to begin life anew.

This doctrine Christ not only taught but also lived. He perfectly fulfilled God's will. He perfectly expressed in his life and death God's love. He made God's kingdom come into being wherever he went on earth, as he drew men under its sway. Herein lies his power. He is greater than every prophet. He left not a book of laws but a living spirit, so that men, by following him, could find true life and come close to God.

Hallowe'en Traditions Make Happy Focus for Thrifty Wartime Party

WHEN the old witch unleashes her black cat and goes forth to join the revelry on Hallowe'en, it's time for good friends to foregather for a little refreshing fun and frolic. The traditional stunts of fortune telling and apple bobbing provide amusing and thrifty wartime diversion for guests of all ages.

It's easy to give an eerie tone to the simplest refreshments if you let a tiny witch and her favorite pussycat stand guard. Doughnuts, apples, nuts and raisins make a tempting snack, co-starred with a spicy, frothy "Witches' Brew," made of decaffeinated coffee so your guests can all relax over second helps without counting spoons and hobgoblins from their pillows later on. And be sure to remember that decaffeinated brew needs slightly longer "perking" to bring out its rich coffee flavor. Black cat and witch cutouts on mugs or cups work like magic in stepping up the ghostly atmosphere of an All Saints' Eve party.

You can make toothsome little Jack-o'-Lanterns from the dough that comes out of the hole of the doughnut. Mark eyes, nose and mouth with frosting.

Cinnamon Coffee Froth
1 cup evaporated milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Cinnamon
4 cups freshly made, hot decaffeinated coffee
Chill evaporated milk thoroughly. Then whip rapidly until stiff. Add vanilla. Place in serving cups, filling half full. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Fill cups with coffee. Makes 8 servings.

Witches' Doughnuts
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
¼ teaspoon lemon extract
1 tablespoon melted butter or other shortening
¾ cup milk
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and nutmeg, and sift together three times. Add sugar to egg, beating thoroughly; then lemon extract and shortening. Add flour, alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Knead lightly on lightly floured board. Roll ¼ inch thick. Cut with floured 1½-inch doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat (385° F.) until golden brown, turning frequently. Drain on unglazed paper. Sugar if desired. Makes 2 dozen small doughnuts.

HARVEST

Autumn gold is glowing
Over hill and dale;
Fruits and grain o'erflowing
Tell the harvest's tale
Of God's loving care and thought,
And the blessings He has brought.
Let us sing with gladness
Of His wondrous ways,
Let not wartime sadness
Mar our thanks and praise.
Whether war prevails or peace
Love of God shall never cease.
Let us join in sharing,
From our store of food,
Something to despairing
Weary sons of God,
In the stricken lands where war
Spreads destruction near and far.
Let us keep on praying
That the day may dawn
When no longer saying,
"Victory must be won,"
Men shall seek "the Reign of God,"
And all war shall be outlawed.
—T. A. Stafford
